

JAMES ARTHUR RAY

James Arthur Ray is one of few spiritual teachers who have achieved top honors in the business world as a thriving entrepreneur. James' background in behavioral sciences, experience as an entrepreneur, and his avid quest for spiritual knowledge give him a unique and powerful ability to address life issues from an integrated and comprehensive level.

James is the President and CEO of James Ray International, a multi-million dollar corporation dedicated to teaching individuals to create wealth in all areas of their lives: financially, relationally, mentally, physically and spiritually. James Ray International was recently featured in the San Diego Business Journal as one of the most-successful and fastest-growing local businesses.

James has devoted over two decades to studying the thoughts, actions, and habits of those who possess true wealth in all areas of their lives. Just as those he studies, James has created an impressive list of his own successes, including over five years as one of AT&T's top sales managers, four years as a personal and business growth expert with AT&T School of Business, and four years working with best-selling author Stephen Covey, and 16 years as an entrepreneur and business growth expert.

James has studied and been exposed to a wide diversity of teachings and teachers - from traditional college and the schools of the corporate world, to the ancient cultures of Peru and Egypt, and the jungles of the Amazon. As a result, he has the unique ability to blend the mystical and practical into a usable and easy-to-access formula.

As a coach and mentor, James has taught thousands of individuals and organizations to create harmonic wealth in all areas of their businesses and lives. Because of his comprehensive and integrated background, James considers himself a "practical mystic," and he seeks to share this unique way of living with individuals around the world.

When he is not on retreat learning from his spiritual teachers, James presents his insights at public appearances and seminars over 200 days each year. His Journey of Power curriculum is a fusion of wealth-building principles, success strategies, and the teachings of all great spiritual traditions, mystery schools, and esoteric studies that he has experienced and assimilated over the last twenty-five years.

James was recently invited to share his personal experience and insights on Larry King Live and in The Secret, a ground-breaking feature-length film that features some of the world's greatest teachers in the fields of transformation, philosophy and the expansion of consciousness.
